DETAILED ACTION

Specification

It is noted that Applicant cites figures 1 and 16, the description of which is found on pages 14-15 of the specification as originally filed, as providing support for the claimed computer-readable recording medium as found in claims 16 and 24-26 thus defining the computer storage medium taught in figures 1 and 16 and pages 14-15 as being the claimed computer-readable medium and therefore the objection to the specification is hereby withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 12 and 15-26 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding Independent claims 12, 15 and 16, cited prior art does not teach, disclose or suggest a method, device or computer-readable recording medium for generating an image of a component completed by arranging a plurality of components in a plurality of divided areas in a virtual three-dimensional space comprising selecting, based on the characteristics of the plurality of areas included in the first parameter, one component from among the plurality of components and arranging, based on the directions in which the plurality of components are to be arranged in each area included in the first parameter, the selected component in any of the areas using one or more of a plurality of arrangement rules, wherein each of the plurality of components is selected based upon at least one condition corresponding to a resident of the virtual space, and wherein the plurality of arrangement rules include at least: a first arrangement rule for deciding on one of any of the areas with a table of random numbers; a second arrangement rule for arranging the components in an order of size and discarding remaining components that do not fit due to lack of space; and a third arrangement rule for expanding or reducing any of the areas relative to a peripheral area according to arrangement of the components.

Claims 17-26 depend from claims 12, 15 and 16 and are thus allowed for the reasons cited above with regard to their parent claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
